

Launch of Keeping Bristol Safe Partnership's New Website

If you work in Safeguarding in Bristol you will be aware about the changes that took place in 2019 which brought together the Children's, Adult's and Community Safety partnership Boards to form the Keeping Bristol Safe Partnership (KBSP).

The KBSP is a key driver of change as it brings partners together at a strategic and operational level to ensure a proactive approach to safeguard Bristol's children, adults and communities.

While the independent website that supported some of the previous Boards was updated to reflect this change, we wanted a more comprehensive website for the whole partnership to embrace our ambition of working collaboratively across all strands of safeguarding and community safety and that is more intuitive and easy to use.

Today we relaunched our website!

Visit the KBSP website at <http://bristolsafeguarding.org> to find:

- Information about the safeguarding and community safety arrangements in Bristol
- Safeguarding news from the partnership
- Recent publications - like statutory reviews (Domestic Homicide Reviews, Adult Safeguarding Reviews and Child Safeguarding Practice Reviews) and learning reviews
- An improved Policy section providing multi-agency safeguarding and community safety guidance for professionals working in Bristol (if you frequently refer to our policies make sure you check here ensure links are up to date)
- Information about KBSP training and other learning and development resources for the Bristol workforce
- Information and resources for members of the public about risk and abuse, and where to find support and make referrals
- A 'members' section for KBSP partners to view documents relevant to partnership meetings and task groups

Our aim is for this website to provide useful information about our work in Bristol to the whole community, including professionals involved in safeguarding and community safety, professionals involved in care, children and young people, adults with care and support needs, families and carers, and to the general public.

We hope you find the new website useful, informative and easy to use. You can contact the KBSP Business Unit through the Contact Us page for any enquiry related to the work of the Partnership or the website.
